ACADEMIC ATTIRE

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including University officials, faculty, and visiting dignitaries, are attired in traditional cap and gown. The basic color for many caps and gowns is the formal black. However, recipients of different degrees wear distinctive tassels on their caps and hoods of various hues draped down the backs of the gowns.

CAPS

Candidates for Bachelor's degrees wear the regulation cap with the tassel appropriate to the school or division from which they are being graduated, with the exception of those who already hold Doctoral degrees and are privileged to wear gold or silver tassels. Candidates for Master's degrees wear black tassels with their school or division represented by the color on their hood. Except during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," traditionally males in academic regalia wear their caps. The authorized list of tassel and hood colors follows:

Agriculture, Food and Environment - Maize	Engineering - Orange
Arts and Sciences	Fine Arts - Brown
Arts - White	Music - Pink
Sciences - Gold	Graduate School
Business and Economics - Drab	Diplomacy - Copper
Communication and Information	Public Policy & Administration - Peacock Blue
Communication - Silver/Gray	Health Sciences - Mint Green
Journalism - Crimson	Law - Purple
Library Sciences - Lemon	Medicine - Hunter Green
Dentistry - Lilac	Nursing - Apricot
Design - Blue Violet	Pharmacy - Olive Green
Historic Preservation - Sage	Public Health - Salmon
Education - Light Blue	Social Work - Citron

GOWNS

The gown for the Bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves. It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the Master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, like the others. The sleeve base hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away. The gown is designed and supplied with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. The gown for the Doctoral degree has a bell-shaped sleeve on which are three velvet bars. Usually the gowns for Doctoral degrees are black but sometimes other colors, depending on the degree or the college or university. The University of Kentucky gown for the Doctoral degree is royal (UK) blue with black panels and three black bars on the sleeve.

HOODS

The Master's hood is long, has a wide velvet edging, and exposes the lining. The outside velvet trim color designates the degree that the person is receiving. The Doctoral hood is easily recognized by the width of the velvet edging, the wide panels at the sides, the greater length, and the full exposure of the lining. The colors of the edging most frequently seen are blue for philosophy, green for medicine, purple for laws; the colors for the honorary Doctoral degrees are purple for laws, white for arts/letters/humanities, and golden yellow for science.

CORDS AND SASHES

Black, blue, and white cords indicate membership in Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society.

Red, white, and blue cords indicate military service.

Double white honor cords signify academic honors of cum laude.

White and gold honor cords signify academic honors of magna cum laude.

Double gold honor cords signify academic honors of summa cum laude.

Silver cords indicate the wearer is a student athlete.

Purple and white sashes indicate the wearer is a Singletary Scholar.

Green and red sashes indicate the wearer is a Gaines Scholar.

A medallion with a white ribbon indicates the wearer is a graduate of the Lewis Honors College.

"The Star Spangled Banner"

Oh say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Chorus

*Oh say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

"On! On! U. of K."

On, on, U. of K. We are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line;
Ev'ry wildcat star will shine;
We'll fight, fight, fight, for the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, Varsity,
And we'll kick pass and run, 'till the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

PRESENTATION OF DEGREE CANDIDATES

W. Harry Clarke

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Professor Emeritus W. Harry Clarke exemplifies the ideal community member – he has spent the entirety of his life engaging earnestly with the people who surround him, improving their experience of life in countless ways. His passion and expertise in music and his devotion to multiple community organizations have played an important role in making Lexington a dynamic and welcoming home.

Professor Clarke earned his B.A. in Music Education at Delta State University in 1959, then his Master of Arts in Music Education at the Vanderbilt University George Peabody College for Teachers in 1963. Already eager to share his love of music in the form of teaching, he served as Assistant Director of Bands while at Vanderbilt University, previously serving as Band Director for several high schools in Mississippi, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

In 1965, Professor Clarke joined the UK community as the first Teaching Assistant for the UK Marching Band while he worked toward his Ph.D. in Music Education. His involvement at UK quickly grew as he took up the role of the Director of Bands at UK in 1968, serving for 21 years. During this time, he grew the Wildcat Marching Band from 80 members to 300, transitioned the band to include women, and established the Band's reputation as one of the best in the country. He later served for 14 years as the Director of the School of Music, leading the school to its designation as one of UK's "Areas of Excellence." In addition to these teaching and administrative opportunities, Clarke taught in the Music Education program, training band and orchestra directors, working with student teachers, and transforming the Music Education curriculum. Throughout his career at UK, he taught students of every interest and career goal. His impact on them has shaped the paths of their lives.

After 46 years at UK, Professor Clarke retired from teaching music. However, his involvement in the Lexington community has only grown: he has served as an elected Council member in the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government (LFUCG), serving on the Planning and Public Works, Public Safety, and General Government committees. He has been a Board member for the Friends of the Arboretum, America in Bloom and as a member of the Picnic with the Pops Commission. He currently serves on the Lexington Tree Board, the Water Quality Fees Board, the MoonDance Association, and the planning entity, Board of Adjustment. His devotion to promoting the Arts is evident in his position as the President-Elect of OperaLex.

Musician, educator, Little League Baseball Coach, Councilmember, Kentucky Music Education Distinguished Service Award recipient, and more – Harry Clarke has spent his life sharing his passion for the Arts and helping others develop skills that enhance their experience of joy in this world. With every life he has touched, he reminds us all of the importance of being deliberately present in one's own community.

For his exceptional contributions to UK and to the community, the University of Kentucky is proud to present W. Harry Clarke with the degree of Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters.

F. Joseph Halcomb III Honorary Doctor of Engineering

As the son of a small-town family physician in southern Kentucky, Dr. F. Joseph Halcomb III grew up around the practice of medicine. From an early age, he was fascinated by the miracle of life – and the engineering marvel we call the human body. He enrolled as a freshman at the University of Kentucky in 1969 and began his college career with a visionary concept: he wanted to pursue an academic program that combined medicine and engineering. With the help of two University of Kentucky professors, Dr. Halcomb began a study plan that prepared him for a groundbreaking career in the emerging medical device and biotechnology industries.

During his undergraduate career, Dr. Halcomb took pre-med courses alongside engineering courses. He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky in mechanical engineering in 1974, and a medical degree in 1978. In his fourth year of medical school, he used his elective time to enroll in the graduate mechanical engineering program at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). By the time he completed his MIT degree and his medical residency at the University of Kentucky, he recognized the need for mechanical engineering in orthopedics and began his career in the orthopedic industry.

In 1980, Dr. Halcomb joined a world-leading medical device company, Zimmer Biomet. In 1985, he was promoted to vice president of product development, leading the development of joint replacement implants that revolutionized the industry. In 1990, he was named senior vice president of operations at Zimmer's Hall Surgical Division, and three years later became president. In 1995, he was recruited by Amgen, one of the earliest biotechnology companies, to apply his medical device expertise in building a venture in cell therapy. In 2004, Dr. Halcomb became Amgen's vice president and directed a team that launched revolutionary products that expanded the company's reach to countless patients worldwide.

Dr. Halcomb has been a leading developer of joint replacement implants and human therapeutics that have changed the lives of millions of individuals around the world.

His thoughtful philanthropy and passion for education have inspired him to assist University of Kentucky students who share the same interests in interdisciplinary study. In 2010, he established the Halcomb Family Endowed Fellowship in Medicine and Engineering at the University of Kentucky as a special tribute to his father. After a larger commitment to the endowment in 2016, the Department of Biomedical Engineering became the first-named department at the University of Kentucky. His fellowship provides opportunities for graduate students in the College of Engineering and the College of Medicine to engage in premier interdisciplinary research in biomedical engineering. And the department now offers a unique undergraduate major in biomedical engineering. This new degree program is a dream come true for Dr. Halcomb. He looks forward to the graduates taking leadership roles in advancing technology to improve human health.

Dr. Halcomb is a pioneer and innovator in what we now commonly call biomedical engineering. His contributions to modern medicine have had a global application and have helped advance joint replacement surgery to its prominence in the world today. Most admirably, however, Dr. Halcomb is taking the fruit of his success and investing it in young people at his alma mater who share the same passion for making a difference in the lives of others.

For his many contributions to human health and to his alma mater, the University of Kentucky is proud to present Dr. F. Joseph Halcomb III with the degree of Honorary Doctor of Engineering.

Deirdre Lyons

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Deirdre Lyons, co-founder of global animal health company Alltech, was born in Dublin, Ireland, and graduated from St. Mary's College – University College Dublin in 1970.
