ACADEMIC ATTIRE

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including University officials, faculty, and visiting dignitaries, are attired in traditional cap and gown. The basic color for many caps and gowns is the formal black. However, recipients of different degrees wear distinctive tassels on their caps and hoods of various hues draped down the backs of the gowns.

CAPS

Candidates for Bachelor's degrees wear the regulation cap with the tassel appropriate to the school or division from which they are being graduated, with the exception of those who already hold Doctoral degrees and are privileged to wear gold or silver tassels. Candidates for Master's degrees wear black tassels with their school or division represented by the color on their hood. Except during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," traditionally males in academic regalia wear their caps. The authorized list of tassel and hood colors follows:

Agriculture, Food and Environment - Maize	Engineering - Orange
Arts and Sciences Arts - White	Fine Arts - Brown
Sciences - Gold	Music - Pink
Business and Economics - Drab	Graduate School Foreign Service - Peacock Blue
Communication and Information Communication - Silver/Gray	Public Policy and Administration - Peacock Blue
Journalism - Crimson	Health Sciences - Mint Green
Library Sciences - Lemon	Law - Purple
Dentistry - Lilac	Medicine - Hunter Green
Design - Blue Violet	Nursing - Apricot
Historic Preservation - Sage	Pharmacy - Olive Green
Education - Light Blue	Public Health - Salmon
	Social Work - Citron

GOWNS

The gown for the Bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves. It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the Master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, like the others. The sleeve base hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away. The gown is designed and supplied with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. The gown for the Doctoral degree has a bell-shaped sleeve on which are three velvet bars. Usually the gowns for Doctoral degrees are black but sometimes other colors, depending on the degree or the college or university. The University of Kentucky gown for the Doctoral degree is royal (UK) blue with black panels and three black bars on the sleeve.

HOODS

The Master's hood is long, has a wide velvet edging, and exposes the lining. The outside velvet trim color designates the degree that the person is receiving. The Doctoral hood is easily recognized by the width of the velvet edging, the wide panels at the sides, the greater length, and the full exposure of the lining. The colors of the edging most frequently seen are blue for philosophy, green for medicine, purple for laws; the colors for the honorary Doctoral degrees are purple for laws, white for arts/letters/humanities, and golden yellow for science.

CORDS AND SASHES

Black, blue, and white cords indicate membership in Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society.

Red, white, and blue cords indicate military service.

Double white honor cords signify academic honors of cum laude.

White and gold honor cords signify academic honors of magna cum laude.

Double gold honor cords signify academic honors of summa cum laude.

Silver cords indicate the wearer is a student athlete.

Purple and white sashes indicate the wearer is a Singletary Scholar.

Green and red sashes indicate the wearer is a Gaines Scholar.

A medallion with a white ribbon indicates the wearer is a graduate of the Lewis Honors College.

Maroon, white and roman gold (tri-color) adorned with the ALD medallion indicate membership in Alpha Lambda Delta-The Honor Society for First-Year Academic Success.

White, black and light blue (twisted cords) indicate membership in Omicron Delta Kappa-The National Leadership Honor Society.

Light pink and light blue cords indicate membership in The Phi Beta Kappa Society.

Navy and gold (braided) cords indicate membership in The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

"The Star Spangled Banner"

Oh say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Chorus

*Oh say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

SOLOISTS

Katherine Copeland, 10 a.m. Ceremony

Mason O'Brien, 3 p.m. Ceremony

"On! On! U. of K."

On, on, U. of K. We are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line;
Ev'ry wildcat star will shine;
We'll fight, fight, fight, for the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, Varsity,
And we'll kick pass and run, 'till the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

Virginia Marsh Bell

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Born in Harrison County, Kentucky in 1922, Virginia Bell was raised on a subsistence farm as the second of seven children. She earned a bachelor's degree in math and biology at Transylvania University in 1944.

Bell and her husband moved to Nashville, Tennessee where they reared five children. The family returned to Lexington in 1974 when her husband accepted the presidency of the Lexington Theological Seminary. At that same time, Bell's parents, still living on the farm outside of Cynthiana, started experiencing the challenges of aging, allowing Bell to witness firsthand how care was provided for older adults. These experiences, plus earlier life exposures to how persons with dementia were being shuttered in psychiatric units, ignited her commitment to do something more for aging adults, particularly those with dementia and their families.

At age 60, Bell earned a Master of Social Work at UK, began her second career at UK's Sanders-Brown Center on Aging and created the Best Friends Approach to dementia care, a model adopted by care facilities, nursing homes and day treatment centers around the world. While acknowledging the medical and psychological challenges of dementia, the Best Friends Approach emphasizes and respects the humanity of people with dementia and focuses on relationship-centered care. Understanding that each person has a life history, identity and talents, the Best Friends Approach embraces the very human need for connection through interpersonal interaction, activity, dignity and respect.

Bell and her colleagues, particularly David Troxel, have disseminated information about the Best Friends Approach in books (The Best Friends Approach to Alzheimer's Care, 1996; A Dignified Life, 2002, 2012, now in its third edition) and numerous national and international conferences. The approach, and Bell herself, have received numerous honors, grants and awards, including recognition by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the National Council on Aging, and the American Society on Aging. Bell twice has served on the Kentucky Governor's Task Force on Alzheimer's Disease; she received UK's Sullivan Award in 2004; she was inducted into the UK Social Work Hall of Fame (2010), and she received the UK Alumni Association Hall of Distinguished Alumni Award (2010).

In 1992, in acknowledgment of her groundbreaking achievements in improving the lives of older adults and their loved ones, Transylvania University awarded Bell an honorary doctorate. While she officially retired in 1993, Bell remains a constant mentor to the Best Friends program, conducting training for volunteers, attending activities at day centers, traveling throughout the world to help establish new programs and serving as a keynote speaker at national and international conferences. Around the time of her 100th birthday in June 2022, Bell will be addressing a global meeting on Alzheimer's disease, continuing her efforts to recognize that beneath the challenges of dementia lies a person of value with a past, present and future.

For her extraordinary contributions to UK and the community, the University of Kentucky is proud to present Virginia Marsh Bell with the degree of Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters.

Lynn Nikky Finney Honorary Doctor of Humanities

Renowned poet and professor Lynn Nikky Finney has spent her career illuminating the Southern cultural and political heritage of African Americans in ways that resonate throughout the country and the world. Her legacy of poignant expression, indomitable truth, and devotion to social justice has enriched both the state of Kentucky and UK.

Finney's love of writing and poetry began during her childhood in South Carolina. She heeded this calling by earning her bachelor's degree in English Literature at Talladega College in 1979. The influence of the Civil Rights and Black Arts Movements, and her parents' social activism led her to pursue additional education in African American Studies at Atlanta University. In her career of more than 30 years, Finney has written six books and hundreds of poems and essays that explore and confront the experiences that have shaped life in the South for herself and countless other African Americans. Her most recent book, Love Child's Hotbed of Occasional Poetry is an enduring love song to her father and 400 years of African American fight and ingenuity.

Finney's work has attracted awards from organizations across the country, including the PEN American Open Book Award in 1999 and the Benjamin Franklin Award for Poetry in 2004; several awards from the Kentucky Arts Council and Kentucky Foundation for Women; the Aiken-Taylor Award from the Sewanee Review and the University of the South; the Wallace Stevens Award, given annually by the Academy of American Poets to recognize outstanding and proven mastery in the art of poetry, and most famously, the National Book Award for Poetry for her 2011 book Head Off & Split.

The university has been influenced by Finney since 1989, when she first came as a Visiting Writer. She proceeded to guide and inspire writers as a professor for more than 20 years. During her time at UK, she left a legacy of excellence in the departments of English, Creative Writing, and African American Studies, as well as in the hearts and minds of students. She is presently a Chancellor of the American Academy of Poets and recently inducted into the American Academy of Arts and Letters. At the University of South Carolina, she holds the John H. Bennett, Jr. Chair in Creative Writing and Southern Letters and a Carolina Distinguished Professorship.

It was at the University of Kentucky's Martin Luther King Jr. Cultural Center that Finney co-founded the Appalachian Poets in 1991, to elevate voices and faces of the Appalachian region that had previously gone unrecognized by the world at large. She has further empowered African American writers and poets by serving as faculty at the Cave Canem Writing Retreat. This commitment to fostering talent and skill in young and developing writers is yet another brick in the tower of exceptionalism Finney has built.

For her extraordinary contributions to UK and the community, the University of Kentucky is proud to present Nikky Finney with the degree of Honorary Doctor of Humanities.

Lewis Honors College graduates are identified by a medallion with a white ribbon.

This charge and the pledge which follows were written by Dr. Frank L. McVey,
President of the University of Kentucky from 1917 to 1940.

Charge to the Graduating Class

On this Commencement day you stand in a new relation to the University, to the State and to Life. The University that has given you of its store of learning looks upon you as its sons and daughters. The State now conceives of you as citizens, well prepared to do your part in the government, development and guidance of the Commonwealth.

If what you have learned while here has given you larger intellectual interests and widened your powers of understanding, the University feels a part of its duty done; and if in the doing, character has become your possession and a part of your moral fiber, the State is satisfied with its investment of men and money.

The University trusts you have learned to approach problems with open minds, to set aside prejudice in your judgment of men and affairs. It hopes that you will shun evil in all its forms and be ready to strive for what is right.

May you have in your declining years, material comfort, the respect of your fellow citizens, the feeling of work well done, and a spiritual and intellectual interest in human life.

Meantime, the University's honor is your honor. In your acts and deeds you now reflect your heritage. To your fellow man, the University is measured by your character, by your deeds, by the company you keep. It is in this spirit that the University calls upon you to be true to the larger things of life, to be men and women of courage, integrity, sympathy, and gentleness.

By granting of the degree you have been admitted to the fraternity of letters, and to the larger fellowship of the University. It is right and fitting that you should stand and solemnly raising your right hand repeat this pledge with me:

The Pledge

In the presence of this audience, citizens of the Commonwealth and members of the University, with strong sense of my responsibility, I promise to hold my degree so no loss will come to it through my holding, to regard it as a claim upon my loyalty to Alma Mater and to pledge myself to the service of God and my fellow man.

In Testimony of your conduct and purpose, the University Senate recommending, the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky has conferred upon you the Diploma of the University of Kentucky, confirmed and acknowledged by the Great Seal of the University.

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater!
Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sound her praise with voice united;
To the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true;
Badge triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends;
White, Kentucky's stainless page.

UK Creed

As a Wildcat,

I promise to strive for academic excellence and freedom by promoting an environment of creativity and discovery.

I promise to pursue all endeavors with integrity and compete with honesty.

I promise to embrace diversity and inclusion and to respect the dignity and humanity of others.

I promise to contribute to my University and community through leadership and service.

I promise to fulfill my commitments and remain accountable to others.

We believe in the University of Kentucky and will forever honor our alma mater.
